Checklist for Medicare Annual Enrollment

Get ready! Annual Enrollment starts October 15th.

Review the steps below & get ready to explore your options during enrollment.

Review the ANOC.

If you have a Medicare Advantage plan, you'll be sent an Annual Notice of Change (ANOC) in September. The ANOC outlines plan changes, so make sure your plan still covers what you need.

Gather your receipts.

Gather medical bills and receipts from the past year. Review them carefully. If your current plan doesn't cover enough of your costs, consider looking at new options for next year. This is particularly important if your needs have changed, like a new diagnosis.

List out your prescriptions.

Make a list of your regular prescriptions, including dosages. If you're shopping for a Part D plan or Medicare Advantage plan with drug coverage, compare the plan's drug formulary – what and how much it covers – against your current prescription list. This gives you a better idea of your out-of-pocket costs.

Make a list of your providers.

If you like your doctors and specialists and want to continue seeing them, make sure any plan you consider includes these providers in their network.

Get your card(s).

Before you start shopping, grab your red, white and blue Medicare card. If you have a private plan, have your Medicare Advantage ID card and/or Part D drug plan card handy, too.

On October 15th, start shopping.

Once AEP begins, compare plans side by side based on what you need and what you want.

Get help when you need it.

Medicare can be complicated, so get help when you need it. The right licensed insurance agent can answer your questions and help you navigate your options.
